MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Robert Martinez (“Plaintiff”) on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, respectfully moves this Court for an Order granting final approval of the proposed Settlement of the above-captioned class and representative action against Knight Transportation, Inc. (“Defendant”), which will dispose of the instant Action in its entirety. The proposed Settlement² – achieved after prolonged litigation, a contested motion for class certification, and mediation with a respected mediator – was preliminarily approved by the Court on March 24, 2023. (Dkt. 84). The Settlement created a $400,000 benefit to the Class, (also referred to as the “Gross Settlement Amount” or “GSA”), from which Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fees and costs, a service award to Plaintiff, administration costs, and $20,000 in association with the release of claims under California Labor Code § 2698, et seq., will be deducted in order to arrive at a Net Settlement Amount of $227,152.69.³ Class Members who filed valid claims will be paid out of the Net Settlement Amount,⁴ with the Settlement providing for a minimum fifty (50) percent of the Net Settlement Amount being paid out to Class Members (hereinafter “Settlement Floor”). The following chart sets forth the allocation of the GSA under the Settlement:

	Total Amount
Gross Settlement Amount	$400,000.00
Attorneys’ Fees (25% of the GSA)	($100,000.00)
Litigation Costs	($13,289.31)
Service Award to Plaintiff	($10,000.00)
Claims Administration Costs	($29,558.00)
PAGA Allocation	($20,000.00)
Net Settlement Amount	$227,152.69
Minimum Payout (50% of the Net Settlement Amount)	$113,576.34

In deciding whether to grant final approval of the proposed Settlement, the primary issue to be

² The Parties’ Stipulation of Class and PAGA Representative Action Settlement and Release is referred to herein as the “Settlement,” “Settlement Agreement,” or “S.A.”

³ $400,000 - $100,000 (requested attorneys’ fees) - $13,289.31 (requested litigation costs) - $10,000 (requested service award) - $29,558 (administration costs) - $20,000 (PAGA allocation) = $227,152.69.

1 decided is whether the Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. As demonstrated herein, the proposed 2 Settlement embodies all of the features of a settlement that is fair, reasonable, adequate, and in the best 3 interests of the members of the Class, as it is the product of (1) arm's length negotiations, (2) negotiated 4 by experienced class action attorneys, (3) subsequent to undertaking sufficient investigation necessary
 5 to evaluate the relative strength and value of the Class's claims, and (4) reflects a reasoned compromise
 6 based directly on the relative strength and value of the Class's claims, as well as the risks, expense, 7 complexity and likely duration of further litigation.

8 Importantly, the class member reaction to the Notice was positive. Significantly, there were zero 9 objections and zero requests for exclusion. Decl. of Bryn Bridley on Settlement Notice and 10 Administration (filed concurrently herewith), ¶ 12 ("Bridley Decl."). In total, 890 class members have 11 submitted valid claims equating to $42,538.15, or 19.15% of the NSA of $227,152.69. Id. ¶ 17. Because 12 the Parties agreed to a 50% floor for distribution of the NSA, Participating Class Members will receive 13 an average award of $127.61⁵ resulting in a near trebling of the average award being received by 14 Participating Class Members. Id. ¶ 17. For these reasons, as set forth more fully herein and in the 15 accompanying papers, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court enter the proposed Final Approval Order submitted herewith.

16 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

17 A. The Parties

18 Knight is a national full truckload carrier based in Phoenix, Arizona. In late 2017, Defendant 19 merged with Swift Transportation Company, forming a new entity entitled Knight-Swift Transportation 20 Holdings Inc. See Declaration of Craig J. Ackermann in support of Renewed Motion for Preliminary 21 Approval (Dkt. 80-1), ¶ 5 ("Ackermann RPAM Decl."). Plaintiff Robert Martinez is a Nevada resident 22 who was employed by Defendant from September 2015 through March 2016 as an over-the-road truck 23 driver. Plaintiff was assigned to Defendant's service center in Las Vegas, Nevada. Less than a quarter of 24 Plaintiff's runs (18.64%) were entirely within the state of California. Id. ¶ 6.

26 _____
 27 ⁵ $113,576.34 (representing 50% of the NSA) / 890 Participating Class Members = $127.61. This average 28 award may be reduced slightly because Class Counsel negotiated with Defendant to accept late claims up to the earlier of the point at which 50% of the NSA had been claimed or one week before the date of the final approval hearing. See Ackermann Final Decl., ¶ 3.

1 B. The Proposed Settlement Class

2 The proposed Settlement will dispose of the entire Action as to the following proposed class of 3 individuals:

4 “All current and former truck drivers employed by defendant Knight Transportation, 5 Inc., who advised defendant that they resided in Oregon, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, 6 and/or Colorado, who were paid in whole or in part on a piece-rate basis, and who 7 drove one or more routes of five hours or more entirely within the State of California
8 for defendant during the “Class Period” from September 30, 2012 through [March 9 24, 2023].”⁶

10 The Settlement Class is co-extensive with the Class previously certified in this case following cross-11 briefing by the parties on a contested class certification motion filed by Plaintiff. See Order Granting 12 Plaintiff’s Motion for Class Certification (“Class Cert. Order”) (Dkt. 35.)

13 C. The Class Action Complaint

14 On September 27, 2016, Plaintiff submitted his Private Attorney General Act (“PAGA”) notice to 15 Defendant and the LWDA. On September 30, 2016, Plaintiff filed this Class and PAGA action in Tulare 16 Superior Court, alleging causes of action for Defendant’s (1) failure to provide duty-free meal breaks and 17 pay missed meal break premiums in violation of Labor Code §§ 512 and 226.7 and Wage Order No. 9-18 2001, § 11; (2) failure to pay separately and hourly for time spent on rest breaks, inspections, and other 19 nondriving tasks in violation of Labor Code §§ 1194 and 226.2; (3) failure to provide paid rest breaks
20 and/or pay missed rest break premiums for unpaid rest breaks in violation of Labor Code § 226.7 and Wage 21 Order No. 9-2001, § 12(A)-(B); (4) failure to pay all wages owed upon termination of employment in 22 violation of Labor Code § 203; (5) failure to issue complete and accurate wage statements in violation of 23 Labor Code §§ 226(a) and 226.2; (6) unfair, unlawful, and fraudulent business practices, in violation of 24 Business and Professions Code §§ 17200 et seq., and (7) PAGA Penalties pursuant to Labor Code § 2698, 25 et seq. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 7.

26 D. Procedural History

27 On November 14, 2016, Defendant removed the action to the Eastern District of California based 28 on diversity jurisdiction. On March 21, 2017, Defendant filed a motion to change venue seeking transfer of the action to the District of Arizona pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1404(a). The motion was denied. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 8.

⁶ See S.A. ¶ 11.

1 After exchanges of formal written discovery, Plaintiff took the deposition of Knight’s Rule 30(B)(6) 2 designee on January 30, 2018. Defendant produced documents including its written meal and rest period
3 policies as well as other policies applicable to its truck drivers, such as sample trip sheets, Movement 4 display data from the trucks’ onboard computer systems, a sample “trip dispatch report” and a Class list.
5 According to Defendant’s data, the Class at that time consisted of 3,989 employees. Ackermann RPAM 6 Decl. ¶ 9.

7 Plaintiff subsequently filed a Motion for Class Certification, which was strongly contested by 8 Defendant, who submitted numerous driver witness statements in opposition. Plaintiff narrowed the scope 9 of the Class to a class of non-resident drivers for days worked entirely within California. Plaintiff also 10 agreed not to pursue wage statement penalties under Labor Code § 226. On December 3, 2018, the Court 11 certified a class of current and former non-California resident drivers “who were paid in whole or in part 12 on a piece-rate basis, and who drove one or more routes of five hours or more entirely within the State of 13 California for defendant during the “Class Period” from September 30, 2012 through [December 3, 2018].”
14 Class Cert. Order (Dkt. 35). The Class was certified as to the four causes of action: (1) the first and third 15 causes of action were for violation of California’s meal and rest break laws, while the drivers were driving 16 full days in California; (2) the second cause of action was for violation of California’s piece-rate minimum 17 wage laws, while the drivers were driving in California; and (3) the UCL based on the first three causes of 18 action. Knight petitioned the Ninth Circuit to appeal the court’s certification decision, which was denied.
19 Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 10-11.

20 On December 21, 2018, the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (“FMCSA”) issued its 21 Determination that California’s meal and rest break laws are preempted for drivers subject to the federal 22 Hours of Service Regulations (“Preemption Order”). Four petitions for review challenging the FMCSA
23 Preemption Order were subsequently filed with the Ninth Circuit. Anticipating that the Ninth Circuit’s 24 decision could impact the claims in this case, the parties stipulated to stay this matter pending the Ninth 25 Circuit’s decision. On January 15, 2021, the Ninth Circuit panel affirmed the FMCSA’s determination that 26 49 U.S.C. 31141 preempted California’s meal and rest break rules. See Int’l Bhd. of Teamsters, Local 2785
27 v. Fed. Motor Carrier Safety Admin., 986 F. 3d 841, 845 (9th Cir. 2021). However, the Ninth Circuit left 28 open the issue of whether the FMCSA’s Preemption Order applied retroactively. Ackermann RPAM Decl.
¶ 12. If the Preemption Order was not retroactive, Plaintiff would still have over eight years of potential

1 meal and rest break liability (from September 30, 2012 to January 15, 2021). Id.

2 The parties subsequently agreed to participate in private mediation and to exchange additional 3 informal discovery. Among other data, Defendant provided the number of Class members (4,873 drivers)
4 who spent at least one full day driving in California, and the number of workweeks during the Class period.
5 On June 10, 2021, the parties attended an all-day mediation facilitated by well-respected mediator, Mark 6 S. Rudy. During the mediation, the Ninth Circuit heard oral argument in the appeal of Ayala v. U.S. Xpress
7 Enterprises, Inc., 851 Fed. Appx. 53 (9th Cir. 2021), which concerned whether the California Supreme 8 Court's decision in Oman v. Delta Air Lines, 9 Cal. 5th 762 (2020), essentially eliminated minimum wage 9 claims regarding piece-rate in the trucking industry. Plaintiff was aware that if the Ninth Circuit ruled in 10 the defendant's favor, then Defendant would have a strong argument that its compensation policy complied 11 with California minimum-wage law. Because of the significance of the case, the parties took a break from 12 the mediation to watch the live-streamed Ninth Circuit oral argument. The parties were still unable to settle 13 after they came back to the mediation. The Ninth Circuit decided Ayala in favor of the trucking company 14 on June 22, 2021, thus all but eliminating Plaintiff's minimum wage/piece rate claim. Mr. Rudy continued 15 to facilitate settlement discussions over the following months, which eventually culminated in a settlement 16 in late September 2021. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 13.

17 On November 10, 2021, Plaintiff filed his motion for preliminary approval of the Settlement. (Dkt.
18 70). On October 25, 2022, the Court denied Plaintiff's motion without prejudice. (Dkt. 79).

19 Prior to settlement, the Ninth Circuit had not decided whether the Preemption Order was retroactive.
20 As noted above, if the Preemption Order was only prospective, Plaintiff would still have more than eight 21 years of liability of a potential nine-year meal and rest break claim. Although the retroactivity issue was 22 before the Ninth Circuit in Valiente v. Swift Transportation, oral argument had not taken place prior to 23 Plaintiff filing the motion for preliminary approval on November 10, 2021. Consequently, when drafting 24 the motion for preliminary approval, Plaintiff assigned considerable value to these claims in calculating 25 both the theoretical maximum value of Defendant's exposure and the realistic expected value of Plaintiff's 26 claims. (Dkt. 70, pp. 19-20). Defendant, however, based its valuation of the case on Valiente being decided 27 in its favor, and it was willing to hold out until it was decided. Both sides compromised, with Defendant 28 settling before Valiente was decided, and Plaintiff compromising his meal and rest break claims.

1 Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 15.

2 This Court denied Plaintiff's motion for preliminary approval on October 25, 2022. Approximately 3 two weeks after this Court denied the motion for preliminary approval, the Ninth Circuit held the 4 Preemption Order was retroactive. See Valiente, 54 F.4th 581 (9th Cir. 2022). The Valiente decision 5 completely eviscerated Plaintiff's second and third causes of action for violations of California's meal and 6 rest break laws and, with it, nine years of potential liability. This fundamentally changed the status of the 7 action, as Plaintiff was left with only a claim for Defendant's alleged failure to pay separately for inspection 8 time and detention time, which was subject to strong defenses based on the Ayala case; and UCL and 9 PAGA claims that were entirely based on the viability of the other three causes of action. Ackermann
10 RPAM Decl. ¶ 16.

11 Plaintiff subsequently filed a Renewed Motion for Preliminary Approval of the Settlement on 12 January 30, 2023. (Dkt. 80). In this renewed motion, Plaintiff addressed a number of issues which the Court 13 had identified in its Order Denying Preliminary Approval. Having reviewed Plaintiff's Renewed Motion 14 for Preliminary Approval, the Court identified a potential ambiguity in the release language contained in 15 the Settlement Agreement. (Dkt. 81). Plaintiff submitted a supplemental brief and revised the Settlement 16 Agreement in order to address the Court's concern. (Dkt. 82). Subsequently, on March 27, 2023, the Court 17 entered an order preliminarily approving the Settlement (the "PA Order") (Dkt. 84).

18 Subsequently, Defendant timely served the CAFA notice pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1715. Ackermann 19 Final Decl. ¶ 6.

20 E. Plaintiff's Investigation

21 Subsequent to Plaintiff filing his Original Complaint, counsel for Plaintiff engaged in formal 22 discovery, aimed specifically at preparing for the filing and briefing of Plaintiff's motion for class 23 certification, as well as the substantive merits of Plaintiff's claims. See Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 9, 10.

24 Through formal and informal discovery, Plaintiff's counsel have diligently pursued an investigation
25 of the putative Class Members' claims, including: (1) review of thousands of pages of relevant documents 26 produced by Defendant, including but not limited to documents constituting Defendant's written meal and 27 rest period policies as well as other policies applicable to its truck drivers, sample trip sheets, Movement 28 display data from the trucks' onboard computer systems, and a sample "trip dispatch report;" (2) review of

1 relevant data regarding the size of the putative class (including a Class list); (3) taking the deposition of 2 Defendant's corporate representative, pursuant to Rule 30(B)(6) on various topics relevant to Plaintiff's
3 claims; (4) research with respect to the applicable law regarding Plaintiff's claims and the potential 4 defenses thereto; and (5) damages discovery prior to and in connection with the mediation of this matter 5 before Mark S. Rudy. See Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 9, 10, 13.

6 Prior to mediation and settlement, Plaintiff's counsel was able to ascertain sufficient information in 7 order to evaluate the strength and weaknesses of Plaintiff's claims. See id. Among other things, Plaintiff's 8 counsel obtained information about (a) the number of class members, i.e., the number of drivers, resident 9 in one of the states listed in the Class definition, who spent at least one full day driving in California; and 10 (b) the number of workweeks worked by Class Members during the Class Period. Ackermann RPAM Decl.
11 ¶ 13. As described above, Plaintiff's counsel were also extremely familiar with the complex legal issues 12 regarding Plaintiff's claims and the potential for further developments that might, and ultimately did, 13 reduce Defendant's exposure on those claims.

14 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff's counsel was able to conclude, at the time of negotiations, that 15 Knight's total exposure on Plaintiff's claims was $2,258,956 with a further potential maximum of 16 $1,807,470 in PAGA penalties. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 18-21. Thus, Defendant's maximum possible
17 exposure on Plaintiff's claims, albeit highly unrealistic, was estimated at $4,066,452.92. *Id.*⁷ Applying
18 discounts for the risks of losing on the merits, the risk of retroactive preemption, the risk of the Court 19 making a finding that California law does not apply to Class Members, and the risk of decertification, and,
20 on the PAGA claim only, a discount for the likelihood of the Court using its discretion to reduce PAGA 21 penalties, Plaintiff determined that Defendant's realistic risk adjusted exposure was $382,185.00.

22 As explained in Plaintiff's Renewed Motion for Preliminary Approval, after reaching settlement, 23 but prior to the Court granting preliminary approval, the Ninth Circuit issued its decision in Valiente v.
24 Swift Transp. Co. of Ariz., LLC, 54 F.4th 581 (9th Cir. Nov. 23, 2022), which further reduced the value of 25 two of Plaintiff's three main claims to zero. Plaintiff's previous unrealistic estimate of Defendant's 26 maximum exposure of $4,066,426 has now been reduced by 44% to $2,259,520. Ackermann RPAM Decl.

27
28 ⁷ As previously noted in Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Approval of the Settlement, the maximum exposure assumed Plaintiff would recover 100% of all damages, restitution and penalties available. This was an optimistic figure.

¶ 23. Applying appropriate discounts, Defendant’s realistic risk adjusted exposure, as of the time preliminary approval of the settlement was granted, was reduced to $135,578.50. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 24-30a. Thus, the Gross Settlement Amount of $400,000 is almost three times Defendant’s realistic exposure. Id. Further, even with the maximum reversion to Defendant, the minimum payment to be paid by Defendant is more than twice the expected value of Plaintiff’s claims. Id.

F. Settlement Negotiations

As noted, on June 10, 2021, the parties attended an all-day mediation with respected mediator Mark S. Rudy. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 13. The case did not settle at mediation. However, the parties continued settlement discussions over the following months with continued input from mediator Rudy. Id.

In late September 2021, the parties were able to reach the Settlement in principle and proceeded to negotiate and finalize a long-form agreement. The parties agreed to settle for $400,000 with a claims process and a 50% floor on distribution of the net settlement amount.⁸ Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 3; Settlement Agreement, at ¶¶ 17-18. Unclaimed funds from the $400,000 settlement amount, if any, would be re-allocated to the Participating Class Members to the extent that the percentage of the NSA claimed fell below 50%. Settlement Agreement, at ¶ 18. Thus, as has transpired, a Participating Class Member’s actual settlement award likely exceeds their estimated payment.

G. The Preliminarily Approved Settlement

The Settlement Agreement, attached to the [Proposed] Order Granting Final Approval of Settlement as Exhibit 1 and previously submitted with the motion for preliminary approval, sets forth the central terms of the Settlement reached by the Parties. On March 24, 2023, the Court preliminarily approved the Settlement Agreement. See PA Order, Dkt. 84 (filed Mar. 27, 2023). Under the terms of the preliminarily approved Settlement, Defendant is discharged of all claims asserted in the Action (“Released Claims”) in exchange for paying the Gross Settlement Amount of $400,000. See Settlement Agreement ¶¶ 17, 54-55.

Under the preliminarily approved Settlement and as subsequently agreed to by the Parties during the claims process, the members of the Settlement Class who submit a claim form (the “Participating Class Members”) would be entitled to claim a portion of the Net Settlement Amount (i.e., the amount remaining ⁸ The parties continued to negotiate until their finalized Settlement Agreement was fully executed in late September. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 13.

1 after deductions for claims administration costs, the incentive award, the PAGA payment, and attorneys’
2 fees and costs). Settlement Agreement, at ¶ 18. Each Participating Class Member will receive an Individual 3 Settlement Payment calculated as follows: The NSA shall be divided by the total number of calendar weeks
4 worked by all Settlement Class Members during the Class Period, and this value (the “Calendar Week
5 Value”) will be multiplied by the number of calendar weeks worked by the Participating Class Member
6 during the Class Period. Id. at ¶ 19. Class Members who are also PAGA Claim Members will also receive 7 their Individual PAGA Claim Payment which is an equal share of the 25% of the $20,000 PAGA allocation.
8 Id. at ¶ 22.

9 Under the Settlement Agreement, the amount actually distributed to the Participating Class 10 Members depends on the number of Class Members who submit claims, but shall equal at least 50% of the 11 Net Settlement Amount. If the aggregate total of Individual Settlement Payments equals more than 50% of 12 the Net Settlement Amount, that amount will be paid. If the aggregate total of Settlement Payments equal 13 less than 50% of the Net Settlement Amount, the Claims Administrator shall proportionately increase the 14 Individual Settlement Payment for each Participating Class Member to ensure that the total of all Settlement 15 Payments equals 50% of the Net Settlement Amount. Any unclaimed amounts shall remain the exclusive 16 property of Defendant, except that the Defendant must pay the employer portion of payroll taxes on the 17 portions of the Individual Settlement Payments designated as wages. Id. at ¶ 18.

18 The cost of claims administration, which is to be paid from the Gross Settlement Amount, is 19 $29,558, see Declaration of Bryn Bridley, at ¶ 17. See Settlement Agreement, at ¶ 30. This is the amount 20 for claims administration costs presented to the Court in Plaintiff’s Renewed Motion for Preliminary 21 Approval. The Court noted that this estimate “is consistent with, and in some cases lower than, other 22 settlements submitted to this court,” and approved Atticus as the Settlement Administrator. PA Order, Dkt.
23 84, 28:6-21. Class Counsel will also seek to recover actual costs incurred in prosecuting this Action in the 24 amount of $13,289.31, which is less than the amount authorized by the Settlement Agreement, 25 preliminarily approved by this Court, and noticed to the Class. See Plaintiff’s Notice of Motion and Motion
26 for Attorneys’ fees and Costs, Dkt. 88, at p. 15 (filed July 12, 2023) (hereinafter “Fees Motion”); Settlement 27 Agreement, ¶ 27.

H. Preliminary Approval & Facilitation of Notice

On March 24, 2023, subsequent to review of Plaintiff’s Renewed Motion for Preliminary Approval and the supporting declarations thereto, this Court entered an Order granting preliminary approval of the proposed Settlement, which among other things, (1) preliminarily approved the settlement as fair, reasonable and adequate; (2) appointed Atticus Administration, LLC (the “Claims Administrator”) as claims administrator for the Settlement; (3) approved the content of the Notice; (4) approved the method of disseminating the Notice; and (5) set the schedule for which Notice was to be sent, and for Class Members to participate in, opt out of, or object to the Settlement. See PA Order, at pp. 29–30. On April 26, 2023, the Court granted Defendant’s unopposed application to continue the notice mail date and related deadlines the Preliminary Approval Order. (Dkt. 86) (“Order Continuing Dates”).

On May 1, 2023, the Claims Administrator received data files from Defense Counsel containing the name, telephone number, social security number, dates of employment, and last-known address for each class member. Bridley Decl. ¶ 4. The final mailing list contained 5,648. Class Members. Id. ¶¶ 4-5. The Claims Administrator then ran a National Change of Address (NCOA) search in attempt to update the addresses on the class list and ensure it was as accurate as possible. Id. ¶ 6. A search of this database provided updated addresses for any individual who had moved in the previous four years and notified the U.S. Postal Service of their change of address. Id. On May 26, 2023, the Claims Administrator provided Notice to the Class using first class mail pursuant to the Order of this Court. See id. ¶ 7. A true and correct copy of the Notice and Claim Form which was provided are attached as Exhibit A to the Bridley Declaration. On June 1, 2023, the Claims Administrator discovered that the Notice Packets contained response deadlines calculated according to what the mail date would have been prior to the Court’s entry of the Order Continuing Dates. The Parties were notified immediately and a corrective Notice in the form of a postcard was promptly prepared for mailing to inform Class Members of the error and the actual deadline by which claims, exclusion requests, and objections had to be submitted. Id. at ¶ 9. A true and correct copy of the corrective postcard Notice is attached as Exhibit B to the Bridley Declaration. Of the 5,648 packets sent, only 405 were ultimately deemed by the Claims Administrator to be “ultimately

1 undeliverable” after curative efforts were undertaken.⁹ Id. at ¶ 10. Thus, there was a 92.83% success rate 2 for delivery of the Notice to the Class. Id.

3 I. Reaction of the Class

4 Although the majority of Class Members did not respond to the Class Notice, the overall reaction 5 of the Class has been positive. In all, 890 class members have, thus far, validly claimed $43,538.15 of the 6 $227,152.69 Net Settlement Amount. See Bridley Decl. ¶ 17. That is a 15.76% claims rate, with 19.15%
7 of the NSA claimed. Moreover, because of the class-favorable terms of the Settlement Agreement,¹⁰ a total
8 of $113,576.35 (equivalent to 50% of the Net Settlement Amount) will be distributed to the 890
9 Participating Class Members. See id. Of the 5,243 total class members provided Notice, there were no 10 objections to the Settlement, and no requests for exclusion were filed. See id. ¶¶ 10, 12.¹¹

11 III. STATEMENT OF THE CASE

12 A. Standards for Final Approval of a Class Settlement

13 Pursuant to FRCP, Rule 23, “[t]he claims ... of a certified class may be settled, voluntarily 14 dismissed, or compromised only with the court's approval.” See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)(A). “Approval 15 under this rule entails a two-step process: (1) preliminary approval of the settlement; and (2) final approval 16 of the settlement at a fairness hearing following notice to the class.” See In re TD Ameritrade Account 17 Holder Litig., Case No. C 07-2852 SBA, C 07-4903 SBA, 2011 WL 4079226, at *10 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 13, 18 2011); David F. Herr, Manual for Complex Litigation (Fourth) § 21.632 (West 2004).

19 In evaluating a proposed settlement for final approval, the Court’s inquiry “must be limited to the 20 extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching 21 by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, 22 reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” See Rodriguez v. West Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th 23 Cir. 2009). “To determine if a settlement satisfies these criteria, the trial court examines: (1) the strength

24 ⁹ Under the rules governing class actions, reasonable efforts must be made to reach all class members with 25 the Class Notice and the notice plan, but each individual Class Member need not actually receive the Class 26 Notice. See Silber v. Mabon, 18 F.3d 1449, 1454 (9th Cir. 1994); see also Rannis v. Recchia, 380 Fed.Appx.
27 646, 650 (9th Cir. 2010).

¹⁰ See Settlement Agreement, at ¶ 18 (providing that no less than 50% of the Net Settlement Amount will 28 be distributed to Participating Class Members, regardless of the claim rate).

¹¹ Insofar as there were no objectors submitted to the proposed Settlement, there were also no objections submitted to the requested attorneys’ fees or costs. Bridley Decl. ¶ 12.

1 of the plaintiffs' case; (2) the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; (3) the 2 risk of maintaining class action status throughout the trial; (4) the amount offered in settlement; (5) the 3 extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings; (6) the experience and views of counsel; 4 (7) the presence of a governmental participant; and (8) the reaction of class members to the proposed 5 settlement." See Wren v. RGIS Inventory Specialists, Case No. C-06-05778 JCS, 2011 WL 1230826, at 6 *19 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2011) (citing Churchill Village v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004); 7 Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998)). "Not all of these factors will apply to 8 every class action settlement" and "[u]nder certain circumstances, one factor alone may prove 9 determinative in finding sufficient grounds for court approval." See Nat'l Rural Telcomms. Coop. v.
10 DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 525-526 (C.D. Cal. 2004). In evaluating these factors, the Court's analysis 11 should be guided by the following general principles:

12 First, due regard should be given to what is otherwise a private consensual agreement between the 13 parties. See Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 965 ("This circuit has long deferred to the private consensual decision 14 of the parties."). "Settlement is a compromise, which balances the possible recovery against the risks 15 inherent in litigating further." See In re TD Ameritrade Account Holder Litig., 2011 WL 4079226 at *9.
16 Indeed, "it is the very uncertainty of outcome in litigation and avoidance of wasteful and expensive 17 litigation that induce consensual settlements." See Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm'n., 688 F.2d 18 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982). As such, "the settlement or fairness hearing is not to be turned into a trial or 19 rehearsal for trial on the merits" or "judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might 20 have been achieved by the negotiators." See id.

21 Second, "[w]hile balancing all of these interests, the court's inquiry is ultimately limited 'to the 22 extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching
23 by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties.'" Knight v. Red Door Salons, Inc., Case No. 08-01520 24 SC, 2009 WL 248367, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 2, 2009); see also Wren, 2011 WL 1230826 at *6 ("An initial 25 presumption of fairness is usually involved if the settlement is recommended by class counsel after arm's-26 length bargaining.").

1 B. The Settlement Meets All the Criteria for Final Approval

2 Applying the above factors, the proposed Settlement embodies all of the key features of a settlement 3 that is fair, reasonable, adequate, and in the best interests of the members of the class, and as such, meets 4 all the criteria necessary for final approval.

5 1. The Factors Giving Rise to a Presumption of Fairness Exist

6 A presumption of fairness exists here, as the proposed Settlement is the product of extensive arm's-7 length negotiations among attorneys with significant experience in employment class litigation; which 8 occurred following certification of the Class on a contested class certification motion and a subsequent all-9 day private mediation conducted after counsel had conducted sufficient investigation to evaluate the 10 strength and potential value of the class' substantive claims, as well as the likelihood of maintaining class 11 certification of such claims through trial. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 13, 31-33. Based thereon, the Court 12 should give considerable weight to the competency and integrity of counsel in assuring itself that a 13 settlement agreement represents an arm's-length transaction entered without self-dealing or other potential 14 misconduct. See Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 965.

15 2. The Relative Strength of Plaintiff's Case Balances in Favor of Approval of the 16 Settlement

17 The relative strength of the claims brought on behalf of the Class weigh in favor of the Court finding 18 that the settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, as various issues existed which had the potential to 19 completely eliminate recovery by Class Members on their claims. Indeed, as of the time the Court granted 20 preliminary approval, the Ninth Circuit's decision in Valiente, had completely eviscerated Plaintiff's 21 second and third causes of action for violations of California's meal and rest break laws and, with it, nine 22 years of potential liability. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 16. This had fundamentally changed the status of 23 the action, as Plaintiff was left with only a claim for Defendant's alleged failure to pay separately for 24 inspection time and detention time, which was subject to strong defenses based on the Ayala case; and UCL 25 and PAGA claims that were entirely based on the viability of the three causes of action. Id.

26 As noted above, the parties conducted extensive investigation and exchange of information through 27 informal discovery. Counsel for the parties further invested extensive time researching the applicable law 28 as applied to the facts regarding the alleged claims of Plaintiff and the potential defenses thereto, and the

1 damages claimed by Plaintiff and the putative class. Plaintiff's Counsel is aware of the defenses and legal 2 positions of Defendant and Plaintiff believes strongly that he would not have been able to achieve the 3 preliminarily-approved Settlement had Valiente been decided before settlement was reached. Ackermann
4 RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 16-17.

5 In sum, the foregoing issues had the potential to completely eliminate recovery by Class members 6 on the alleged claims, as well as impact the ability to maintain certification of such claims through trial. As 7 such, this factor weighs heavily in favor of resolution by way of the compromise set forth in the Settlement.

8 3. The Risk, Expense, and Complexity of Further Litigation Balances in Favor of 9 Approval of the Settlement

10 Approval of the proposed Settlement is especially appropriate in light of the risk, expense, and 11 complexity of further litigation. As discussed above, there is a considerable risk that if the Parties had not 12 reached a settlement, the Class would have been decertified or, if it had proceeded to trial, it would have 13 recovered significantly less than the value of the Settlement. These risks, when balanced with the fact that 14 the settlement achieved significant recovery for Class Members, weigh strongly in favor of approval of the 15 Settlement.

16 4. The Benefits Conferred by the Settlement Balance in Favor of Approval

17 As discussed above, the Settlement provided class members an opportunity to claim a significant 18 monetary benefit that is substantially greater than they could realistically have expected to receive had they 19 proceeded to trial. As held by the Ninth Circuit, a settlement may be fair and reasonable even where the 20 settlement only provides a fraction of what could have been obtained at trial:

21 The proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical or speculative 22 measure of what might have been achieved by the negotiators." Officers for Justice v.
23 Civil Serv. Comm'n, 688 F.2d at 625 (emphasis in original). Thus, "the very essence of 24 a settlement is compromise, 'a yielding of absolutes and an abandoning of highest 25 hopes.'" Id. at 624 (citations omitted). As the Second Circuit has pointed out: "The fact 26 that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction of the potential recovery does not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be disapproved." City of Detroit v. Grinnell Corp., 495 F.2d 448, 455, 455 n.2 (2nd Cir. 1974)

27 Linney v. Cellular Alaska P'ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1242 (9th Cir. 1998).

1 Here, based on near-final data, the average settlement award that will be paid to participating class
2 members is $127.61.¹² This amount constitutes a significant recovery considering the disputed issues 3 detailed above. Thus, notwithstanding the existence of issues having the potential to eliminate recovery on 4 each of the Class claims, the Settlement nonetheless achieved a significant recovery on behalf of the Class.
5 As such, this factor balances in favor of a finding that the terms of the Settlement are fair, adequate, and 6 reasonable.

7 5. The Extent of Discovery Completed and the Stage of The Proceedings Favor
8 Approval of the Settlement

9 In evaluating this element, the Court should be mindful that the relevant consideration is whether 10 the parties have “sufficient information to make an informed decision about settlement.” Newberg on Class 11 Actions § 13.50 (5th ed.) (quoting Barani v. Wells Fargo, Case No. 12CV2999-GPC (KSC), 2014 U.S.
12 Dist. LEXIS 49838, at * 13 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 9, 2014). See also Lewis v. Starbucks Corp., Case No. 2:07-cv-
13 00490-MCE, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 83192, at *17 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 11, 2008) (“[A]pproval of a class action 14 settlement is proper as long as discovery allowed the parties to form a clear view of the strengths and 15 weaknesses of their cases.”)

16 Here, the extent of discovery conducted was sufficient to enable Class Counsel to evaluate the 17 strength and value of the Class’ claims for purposes of settlement. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 9, 13. Class 18 Counsel scrutinized and analyzed the information, documents and testimony obtained during discovery and 19 class certification, to determine Defendant’s liability and amount of damages owed. Ackerman RPAM 20 Decl. ¶¶ 18-30a. Counsel took the deposition of Knight’s Rule 30(B)(6) designee on January 30, 2018, 21 reviewed Defendant’s written meal and rest period policies as well as other policies applicable to its truck 22 drivers, sample trip sheets, movement display data from the trucks’ onboard computer systems, a sample 23 “trip dispatch report” and a Class list. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶ 9.

24 Based on Class Counsel’s experience obtaining certification and litigating wage and hour claims, 25 such investigation was sufficient to expose and evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the substantive 26 merit of the Class’ claims, as well as the likelihood of maintaining certification of such claims through 27 trial. Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 18-30a.

28

¹² $($227,152.69 \text{ (NSA)} * 0.5) / 890 = $127.61.$

1 6. The Experience and Views of Plaintiff's Counsel Favor Approval

2 The experience and views of counsel warrant a finding by the Court that the settlement is fair, 3 adequate, and reasonable. Class Counsel are qualified and experienced in class action employment
4 litigation, including wage and hour class actions in the trucking industry. See Declaration of Craig 5 Ackermann in Support of Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs ¶¶ 6, 8-11 (Dkt. 88-1); Declaration of 6 Julian Hammond in Support of Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs, at ¶¶ 10-11 (Dkt. 88-4.). In the view 7 of Class Counsel, the benefit conferred by the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate to the 8 proposed Class under the circumstances, as it reflects a reasoned compromise which not only takes into 9 consideration the inherent risks in all employment class litigation, but also the various issues in this 10 particular case which had the potential to completely eliminate recovery by Class members on their claims.
11 See Ackermann RPAM Decl. ¶¶ 31-35.

12 7. The Reaction of the Class Favors Approval of the Settlement

13 In evaluating this element, “[i]t is established that the absence of a large number of objections to a 14 proposed class action settlement raises a strong presumption that the terms of a proposed class settlement 15 action are favorable to the class members.” See Nat'l Rural Telecomms. Coop., 221 F.R.D. at 529. At 16 preliminary approval, the Court found that the proposed notice to be sent to the class members was the best 17 practicable under the circumstances. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). The Court further found that the notice 18 adequately apprised class members of their rights under the settlement. Following preliminary approval, 19 the Claims Administrator provided Notice to the Class in accordance with the Settlement Agreement.
20 Bridley Decl. ¶¶ 4-7. On June 1, 2023, the Claims Administrator discovered that the Notice Packets 21 contained deadlines calculated according to what the mail date would have been prior to the Court's entry
22 of the Order Continuing Dates. The Parties were notified immediately and a corrective Notice in the form 23 of a postcard was promptly prepared for mailing to inform Class Members of the error and the actual 24 deadline by which claims, exclusion requests, and objections had to be submitted. Id. at ¶ 9. Of the 5,648 25 packets sent, only 405 were ultimately deemed by the Claims Administrator to be “ultimately 26 undeliverable” after curative efforts were undertaken. Id. at ¶ 10.

27 The reaction of the class has been positive, as there were no objections, and zero exclusion 28 requests. Bridley Decl. ¶¶ 10, 12. Moreover, 890 class members submitted claim forms claiming 19.15%

1 of the Net Settlement Amount, or $43,538.51. However, due to the class favorable provisions of the 2 Settlement that include a minimum distribution to Participating Class Members of 50% of the Net 3 Settlement Amount, there will be a distribution of $113,576.35 to participating Class Members.

4 8. Additional Factors Weigh in Favor of Finding the Terms of the Proposed 5 Settlement to Be Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable

6 In addition to the factors presented above, the proposed Settlement does not possess any obvious
7 deficiencies, such as unduly preferential treatment to members of the Settlement Class or Class 8 Representative. Settlement proceeds are to be equitably divided among Settlement Class members, and 9 will be distributed by applying the same claim procedures to the entire Class.

10 Moreover, with regard to administration costs, Class Counsel has undertaken efforts to ensure that 11 the interests of the settlement class were protected by submitting administration to competitive bid. Atticus 12 was selected after submitting the lowest bid. The amount of Atticus's final bill is $29,558.00. Bridley Decl.
13 ¶ 18. The litigation costs of $13,289.31, are also reasonable and well below the amount of up to $20,000
14 permitted under the Settlement Agreement, which was preliminarily approved by this Court. Settlement 15 Agreement, at ¶ 27.

16 In its Order preliminarily approving the Settlement, the Court preliminarily approved a $10,000 17 incentive award to Plaintiff Robert Martinez. PA Order, pp. 20-21. In preliminarily approving this amount, 18 the Court considered that Plaintiff had expended approximately 82 hours in connection with this case, 19 including: participating in several lengthy interviews and phone conferences over a period lasting several 20 months; searching for and producing a significant amount of relevant documents; reviewing pleadings in 21 the case; consulting with counsel on factual issues; reviewing documents and data provided by Defendant; 22 communicating about the case with Class Members; providing multiple declarations; reviewing and 23 approving the mediation brief and settlement agreement; and participating in an all-day mediation. PA 24 Order, pp. 22. Moreover, this enhancement payment also recognizes the considerable monetary risk 25 Plaintiff undertook on behalf of Class Members to be personally liable for all costs incurred regardless of 26 the success of the litigation or class certification, as well as the personal risk he took of facing intrusive 27 discovery and potential disclosure to future employers that he sued a former employer. The Court's 28 preliminarily approved enhancement award is reasonable and, as previously established in Plaintiff's

1 Renewed Motion for Preliminary Approval, is well within a range deemed reasonable by the court. Id.

2 Finally, as demonstrated in Plaintiff's Motion For Attorneys' Fees and Costs (filed on July 14, 3 2023), Class Counsel's request for $100,000 in attorneys' fees (i.e., 25% of the Gross Settlement Amount),
4 is reasonable and consistent with, or lower than, awards typically approved in similar litigation. In addition,
5 it is important to underscore that, as reasoned by the U.S. Supreme Court in Boeing v. Van Gemert, 444
6 U.S. 472, 480-81 (1980), the "right [of absent class members] to share the harvest of the lawsuit upon proof 7 of their identity, whether or not they exercise it, is a benefit in the fund created by the efforts of the class
8 representatives and their counsel." While the Court has clear discretion to apply upward and downward 9 adjustment to Plaintiff's requested fees, see Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1050-51 (9th Cir.
10 2002), it is nevertheless improper to point to the amount claimed by Class Members and distributed as a 11 reason for such adjustment. See Williams v. MGM-Pathe Comms. Co., 129 F.3d 1026, 1027 (9th Cir. 1997) 12 (holding that a "court abuse[s] its discretion by basing the fee on the class members' claims against the 13 fund rather than on a percentage of the entire fund or on the lodestar"). While Class Counsel wishes that 14 more Class Members had submitted claims, there is no denying that they all had the opportunity to do so, 15 which was a significant benefit conferred by the Settlement resulting from Class Counsel's work.¹³

16 In sum, under the applicable standards for approval of class action settlement under Rule 23(e), the 17 settlement in this case meets the standards for final approval.

18 IV. CONCLUSION

19 Because the Settlement provides benefits that are demonstrably fair in relation to the potential risks 20 and benefits of continued litigation, is supported by a robust evidentiary record, and is endorsed by 21 experienced and qualified wage-and-hour Class Counsel as well as the Class, Plaintiff respectfully requests
22 that the Court grant the Settlement final approval and that the Court enter the proposed Order filed 23 concurrently herewith.

24 Respectfully submitted,

27 ¹³ As the old proverb goes, you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make it drink. Class Counsel brought 28 the proverbial horse to water, but, so far, only 890 Knight drivers have elected to drink. Nevertheless, the water was there for all 5,648.
